DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

- Species I: Figures 1-5
- Species II: Figures 13 and 14

The species are independent or distinct because:

- Species I shows a first embodiment of a cam locking assembly (10) in accordance with a first embodiment of the present invention is shown. The cam locking assembly (10) generally includes a tie bolt (12), a thrust beating assembly (18), a lever member (20) and a coming unit (30)
- Species II shows an alternate embodiment of the present invention is shown. The cam locking assembly (10) is substantially the same as in the previous embodiment. However, cam plate (34) of the present invention is connected to a spline plate (60), instead of directly to the mounting bracket (102) or column (100).

Further, this application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct subspecies:

- Subspecies A: Figures 7A & 7B
- Subspecies B: Figure 8
- Subspecies C: Figure 9 and Figure 12

- Subspecies D: Figure 10
- Subspecies E: Figure 11

The Subspecies are independent or distinct because they show different embodiments of the cam plates (222,224), and a text search of one would not cover the text search of another.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species and also elect a singly disclosed subspecies for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 1 appears to be generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species and subspecies that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable on the species and subspecies thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
